SUMMARY OF PRIVACY PRACTICES NOTICE

The Peacemaker Center believes that privacy and confidentiality regarding personal health information is extremely important. Securely protecting privacy is a responsibility that we have always taken very seriously. We want you to know that there is now a federal regulation that governs the privacy of your health information and how we may use and share that information in the course of our regular business activities. This federal regulation requires us to provide you with a detailed description, or “Notice”, of how we use your health information.

We are committed to protecting your health information. We create a record of the care and services you receive at the center. We need this record to provide you with quality care and to comply with certain legal requirements. This notice applies to all of the records of your care generated by the center, whether made by center personnel or staff under contract to the center.

The following Notice goes into detail on how we may use, share and disclose your health information in the course of treatment, payment and business operations. In general, unless it is described in the Notice, we will NOT use or disclose your health information without your written authorization. We also describe your rights and certain obligations we have regarding the use and disclosure of health information.

USES AND DISCLOSURES OF HEALTH INFORMATION

We will refer to your “health information” throughout this Notice. When we say “health information”, we mean what the federal privacy rules (“the HIPAA privacy regulations”) call “Protected Health Information.” This is individually identifiable mental, behavioral, medical or other health care information about you, including demographic information, collected from you or created or received by a health care provider, a health plan, your employer, or a health care clearinghouse and that related to: (i) your past, present, or future physical or mental health or condition; (ii) the provision of health care to you; (iii) the past, present, or future payment for the provision of health care to you. Any terms not defined in the Notice should have the same meaning as they have in the HIPAA Privacy Regulation as set out in 45 C.F.R. section 164.501 (and any amendments).

WHO WILL FOLLOW THE REQUIREMENTS OF THIS NOTICE

This notice describes our practices and those of:

- Any health care professional authorized to enter information into your record.
- All units of The Peacemaker Center at all locations.
- Any member of a volunteer group we allow to help you while under the care of the center.
- All employees, staff and other center personnel.
- All of The Peacemaker Center’s sites and locations comply with the terms of this notice. In addition, these entities, sites and locations may share health information with each other for treatment, payment or center operations purposes described in the notice.
OUR LEGAL REQUIREMENT

We are required by law to:

- Assure health information that identifies you is kept private;
- Give you this notice of our legal duties and privacy practices with respect to health information about you;
- Follow the terms of the notice that is currently in effect.

Furthermore, we MUST disclose your health information to you or someone who has the legal right to act for you (your personal representative), if the information you seek is contained in a designated record set; and also to the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services, if necessary, to investigate or determine our compliance with the HIPAA Privacy Regulations.

We are still required to follow all State privacy laws and other applicable laws that provide individuals with greater privacy protections. The HIPAA privacy rules do not take precedence over the existing state laws.

HOW WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE HEALTH INFORMATION ABOUT YOU

The following categories describe different ways that we are permitted by the law to use and disclose health information. For each category of uses or disclosures we will explain what we mean and try to give some examples. Not every use or disclosure in a category will be listed. However, all of the ways we are permitted to use and disclose information will fall within one of the categories.

For Treatment: We may use health information about you to provide you with behavioral health and medical treatment. We may disclose health information about you to doctors, nurses, and healthcare professionals who are involved in taking care of you through the center. We also may disclose health information about you to people outside the center who may be involved in your care, such as family members, county personnel or others we use to provide services that are part of your care.

For Payment: We may use and disclose health information about you so that the treatment and services you receive at the center may be billed to and payment may be collected from you, an insurance company or a third party.

Business Associates: We hire individuals and companies to perform various functions on our behalf or to provide certain types of services for us. In order to help us, these business associates may receive, create, maintain, use or disclose your health information. Before they may have any contact with your health information, we require them to sign a written statement stating that they will keep your health information private and secure.

Your Authorization: You may give us written authorization to use your health information or to disclose it to anyone for any purpose. If you give us an authorization, you may revoke it in writing at any time. However, we will not be able to undo any action that was taken before that authorization was revoked. Unless you give us a written authorization, we will not use or disclose your health information for any purpose other than those described in this Notice.

Appointment Reminders: We may use and disclose health information to contact you as a reminder that you have an appointment for treatment or services from the center. You may notify us in writing of an alternative means of contacting you and while we are not required to agree to your request, we will make the best efforts to do so provided it is not an unworkable request.

Treatment Alternatives: We may use and disclose health information to tell you about or recommend possible treatment options or alternatives that may be of interest to you and alert you to other services we provide.

Health-Related Benefits and Services: We may use and disclose health information to tell you about health-related benefits or services that may be of interest to you.

Fundraising Activities: We may use health information about you to contact you in an effort to raise money for the center and its operations. We may disclose health information to a foundation related to the center so that the foundation may contact you in raising money for the center. We only would release contact information, such as your name, address and phone number and the dates you received treatment or services at the center.

Individuals Involved in Your Care or Payment for Your Care: We may release health information about you to a friend or family member who is involved in your medical care. We may also give information to someone who helps pay for your care. We will only disclose the health information that is related to the person’s involvement.

Required by Law: We will disclose health information about you when required to do so by law.
Workers' Compensation: We may release health information about you for workers' compensation or similar programs. These programs provide benefits for work-related injuries or illness.

Public Health Risks: If required by law, we may disclose health information about you for public health activities. These activities generally include those designed to prevent or control disease, injury or disability; report births and deaths; report child abuse or neglect; report reactions to medications or problems with products; notify people of recalls of products they may be using; notify a person who may have been exposed to a disease or may be at risk for contracting or spreading a disease or condition; notify the appropriate government authority if we believe someone has been the victim of abuse or neglect when required or authorized by law.

Public Health Risks: If required by law, we may disclose health information about you for public health activities. These activities generally include those designed to prevent or control disease, injury or disability; report births and deaths; report child abuse or neglect; report reactions to medications or problems with products; notify people of recalls of products they may be using; notify a person who may have been exposed to a disease or may be at risk for contracting or spreading a disease or condition; notify the appropriate government authority if we believe someone has been the victim of abuse or neglect when required or authorized by law.

Health Oversight Activities: If required by law, we may disclose health information to a health oversight agency for activities authorized by law. These oversight activities include, for example, audits, investigations, inspections, and licensure. These activities are necessary for the government to monitor the health care system, government programs, and compliance with civil rights laws.

Lawsuits and Disputes: If you are involved in a lawsuit or a dispute, we may disclose health information about you in response to a court or administrative order. We may also disclose health information about you in response to a subpoena, discovery requests or other lawful process by someone else involved in the dispute, but only if efforts have been made to tell you about the request or to obtain an order protecting the information requested.

Law Enforcement: We may release health information if asked to do so by a law enforcement official: in response to a court order, subpoena, warrant, summons or similar process; to identify or locate a suspect, fugitive, material witness, or missing person; about the victim of a crime if, under certain limited circumstances, we are unable to obtain the person's agreement; about a death we believe may be the result of criminal conduct; about criminal conduct at the center; and in emergency circumstances to report a crime; the location of the crime or victims; or the identity, description or location of the person who committed the crime.

Organ and Tissue Donation: If you are an organ donor, we may release medical information about you to organizations that handle organ procurement or tissue transplantation, as necessary to facilitate organ or tissue donation/transplantation.

To Avert a Serious Threat to Health or Safety: We may use and disclose health information about you when necessary to prevent a serious threat to your health and safety or the health and safety of the public or another person. Any disclosure, however, would only be to someone able to help prevent the threat.

SPECIAL SITUATIONS

We are not permitted by Pennsylvania laws to disclose health information regarding mental health or drug and alcohol services except pursuant to your authorization, a court order, or in special circumstances required by federal or state laws. Subject to these more stringent federal or state laws, the HIPAA Privacy Regulations permit us to disclose health information related to: Military or Veteran agencies; FBI and National Security and Protective Services for the President and others; inmates or if you are under the custody of a law enforcement official; a coroner, funeral director or medical examiner to identify a deceased person or determine the cause of death; or to a funeral director as necessary to carry out their duties.

OTHER USES OF HEALTH INFORMATION

Other uses and disclosures of health information not covered by this notice or the laws that apply to us will be made only with your written permission. If you provide us with permission to use or disclose health information about you, you may revoke that permission, in writing, at any time. If you revoke your permission, we will no longer use or disclose health information about you for the reasons covered by your written authorization. You understand that we are unable to take back any disclosures we have already made with your permission, and that we are required to retain our records of the care that we provided to you.

YOUR RIGHTS REGARDING HEALTH INFORMATION ABOUT YOU

You have the following rights regarding health information we maintain about you:
Right to Inspect and Copy: You have the right to inspect and copy health information that may be used to make decisions about your care that we maintain in a “designated record set”, with limited exceptions. Your “designated record set” contains claims and payment information, enrollment and billing information, other records used to make decisions about your health care benefits. We may charge you a reasonable, cost-based fee for a copy of your health information, for mailing the copy to you, and for preparing any summary or explanation that you may request. (You may withdraw your request if you do not wish to pay the fees.) To inspect or copy health information that may be used to make decisions about you, you must submit your request in writing to your therapist or the Director. We may deny your request to inspect and copy in certain very limited circumstances, if you are denied access to health information, you may request that the denial be reviewed. Another licensed health care professional chosen by the center will review your request and the denial. The person conducting the review will not be the person who denied your request. We will comply with the outcome of the review.

Right to Amend: If you feel that health information we have about you is incorrect or incomplete you may ask us to amend the information. You have the right to request an amendment for as long as the information is kept by, or for, the center. To request an amendment, your request must be made in writing and submitted to your therapist or the Director. In addition, you must provide a reason that supports your request. We may deny your request for an amendment if it is not in writing or does not include a reason to support the request. In addition, we may deny your request if you ask us to amend information that:

1. Was not created by us, unless the person or entity that created the information is no longer available to make the amendment;
2. Is not part of the health information kept by or for the center;
3. Is not part of the information which you would be permitted to inspect and copy; or
4. Is accurate and complete.

Right to Request Restrictions: You have the right to request a restriction or limitation on the health information we use or disclose about you for treatment, payment or health care operations. You also have the right to request a limit on the health information we disclose about you to someone who is involved in your care or the payment for your care, like a family member or friend. For example, you could ask that we not use or disclose information about a treatment you had. We are not required to agree to your request. If we do agree, we will comply with your request unless the information is needed to provide you emergency treatment. To request restrictions, you must make your request in writing to your therapist. In your request, you must tell us (1) what information you want to limit; (2) whether you want to limit our use, disclosure or both; and (3) to whom you want the limits to apply, for example, disclosures to your spouse.

Right to Request Confidential Communications: You have the right to request that we communicate with you about medical matters in a certain way or at a certain location. For example, you can ask that we only contact you at work or by mail. To request confidential communications, you must make your request in writing to your therapist. We will not ask you the reason for your request. We will accommodate all reasonable requests; however, your request must specify how or where you wish to be contacted.

Right to a Paper Copy of This Notice: You have the right to a paper copy of this notice. You may ask us to give you a copy of this notice at any time. Even if you have agreed to receive this notice electronically, you are still entitled to a paper copy of this notice.

CHANGES TO THIS NOTICE

We reserve the right to change this notice. We reserve the right to make the revised or changed notice effective for health information we already have about you as well as any information we receive in the future.

GRIEVANCES

If you believe your privacy rights have been violated, you may file a grievance with the center’s Executive Director, or with the Department of Health and Human Services. To file a grievance with the center, contact the Executive Director, The Peacemaker Center, 103 Garris Road, Downingtown, PA 19335. Phone: 610-269-2661 / Fax: 610-269-7562
